Abkürzungen und Sonderzeichen

„Jan. & Febr.“ (1612)

„Anglorum“ (1612)

„Primus articulus“ (1615)

„Angesehen, das“ (1612)

„etc.“ (1612)

„acta etc.“ (1612)

„temporum“ (1662)

„wider“ (1641)

Die Abkürzungszeichen gehen auf spätantike und mittelalterliche Vorbilder zurück. Im 17. Jahrhundert wurden sie sehr viel seltener verwendet, aber tauchen ab und zu noch auf. Siehe Cappelli, Adriano: Lexicon Abbreviatarum, Wörterbuch lateinischer und italienischer Abkürzungen wie sie in Urkunden und Handschriften besonders des Mittelalters gebräuchlich sind, dargestellt in über 14.000 Holzschnittzeichen, 2. verbesserte Auflage, Leipzig 1928.
